Juan d’Oriente near Masaya, Nicaragua. He is a third-generation artisan. He is part of a group of artisans from his town; they work together to travel once each year to get the supplies they need. It takes about 30 days to create a piece from start to finish; the timing is partly dependent on the weather. If it is too cold and rainy, or too hot, the process is delayed. The family produces about 20 pieces each month.

The larger pieces like this, are particularly unique and they produce only a few of this size each month.

Venge Vineyards

Donated by Friends of Arc Herkimer

2013 Russian River Valley
Bacigalupi Vineyard Pinot Noir

A fuller, broader style of Pinot Noir, the nose is complete and filled with allspice, rose water and black cherries—the abundant, aromatic fruit in this wine is profound, plush and exotic. The palate is filled with black fruit with a full, round mouth-feel, tongue curling acidity and savory satisfaction.

2013 Napa Valley
Maldonado Vineyard Chardonnay

Golden straw presence in the glass with bouquet of honey, marmalade, fresh citrus zest, toasted pine nuts, rocky flints, all spice and toasty notes. There is lusciousness to the nose that is ever so inviting. Crisp lemon drop, pineapple, ripe delicious apple and coconut fill the mouth.
